SPORT BC announces SCOTT RUSSELL of CBC as Master of Ceremonies 2018 Sport BC Athlete of the Year Awards

VANCOUVER, BC (March 6, 2018) — Sport BC is pleased to announce that Scott Russell, CBC Sports Broadcaster, will be emceeding the 2018 Athlete of the Year Awards in Vancouver on March 28, 2018 at the Westin Bayshore Vancouver Hotel!

A Canadian Screen Award and Gemini Award-winning broadcaster and acclaimed author, Scott Russell will bring vast experience, passion and knowledge to his role as host of Olympic Games Primetime during CBC/Radio-Canada's coverage of the Olympic Winter Games PyeongChang 2018 this February. Russell also serves as one of the hosts of CBC Sports' Road To The Olympic Games, alongside Andi Petrillo each weekend. Russell's unparalleled enthusiasm for amateur sport shines through in every aspect of his work for the network.

A CBC Sports veteran of more than 25 years, Russell has covered 14 previous Olympic Games including his most recent work as host of Olympic Games Primetime during CBC/Radio-Canada's coverage of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games. Russell also hosted CBC's prime time coverage of the Toronto 2015 Pan Am Games. In 2014, Russell was also the network's on-site host for coverage of the XX Commonwealth Games in Glasgow, Scotland - his sixth Commonwealth Games with CBC as well as hosting CBC's prime time coverage of 2014 FIFA World Cup Brazil™. He has also hosted the 2010 FIFA World Cup South Africa and the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup Germany. In addition, Russell was a host and rink-side reporter for CBC's Hockey Night in Canada for 14 years. Outside of his hosting duties, Russell authors insightful blog posts at cbcspports.ca where he discusses the world of sport from all angles.

After joining CBC Charlottetown in 1985 as a reporter, Russell turned to sports in 1986 and quickly established himself as a talent. From 1988 to 1992, he was a sports reporter and anchor for CBMT in Montreal until he moved to Toronto as a network sports commentator.

In addition to his roles at CBC, Russell teaches a course in Canadian Sports History at Toronto's Centennial College. He is also a member of the Canadian Olympic Committee's Education Committee as well as a member of the Ambassador's Council for the Amici camping charity. Russell is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario and holds an M.A. in Journalism. In 2014, he was honoured by Sports Media Canada with the George Gross Award for Outstanding Broadcasting. In 2013, he was presented with a CBC President's Award in the Brand Champion category for his dedication and enthusiasm for his work covering amateur athletics for the network.

Russell has penned two books on hockey, Ice Time: A Canadian Hockey Journey and The Rink - Stories from Hockey's Home Towns, which he co-wrote with Chris Cuthbert. Russell's third book, Open House: Canada and the Magic of Curling, is a grassroots look at one of this country's favourite sports.

An active runner, Russell completed the Boston Marathon in 2005 and in 2012, was awarded a Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal for his contributions to sports in Canada. He currently lives in Toronto with his wife, Catherine, and their two children.

About the Athlete of the Year Awards

The Athlete of the Year Awards, founded by Sport BC, is the longest standing amateur sport recognition event in the country. Awards in 18 different categories are given each year to athletes, coaches, and officials on their performance and contribution to sport in the province of British Columbia. The awards play a valuable role in nurturing athletic success while recognizing extraordinary accomplishments in BC.

24th Annual Presidents Awards

The 24th Annual Presidents Awards is proudly sponsored by Sports with Balls. This group is comprised of Basketball BC, Volleyball BC, BC Lacrosse Association, BC Soccer Association, Softball BC, Baseball BC, Tennis BC and the BC Ringette Association. These awards are presented annually to volunteers from Sport BC member organizations who represent the spirit of volunteerism, and whose dedication, energy, and commitment contribute to the development of their sport or organization.

About Sport BC

In 1966, a small group of dedicated volunteers created an organization to provide a unified voice for amateur sport in British Columbia. While much has changed in 52 years, our core purpose remains the same.

Who we are:

Sport BC is the non-profit sport federation, representing over 60 Provincial Sport Organizations in British Columbia. As a member-based organization, Sport BC offers services and programs to build the capacity of our members and advocate on their behalf to improve the landscape for organized sport in BC.

Mission:

Sport BC, as a member-based organization, supports the growth of amateur sport in BC and provides leadership through delivery of its programs and services for members.

Vision:

Sport in British Columbia is thriving through the leadership of Sport BC and our members.

Values:

Integrity, Transparency, Collaboration, Creativity and Innovation
