INDEPENDENT PRACTITIONER'S REVIEW ENGAGEMENT REPORT

To the Members of Sport BC

We have reviewed the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Sport BC, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2026, and the consolidated statement of operations and change in net assets and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Practitioner's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Canadian generally accepted standards for review engagements, which require us to comply with relevant ethical requirements.

A review of consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted standards for review engagements is a limited assurance engagement. The practitioner performs procedures, primarily consisting of making inquiries of management and others within the entity, as appropriate, and applying analytical procedures, and evaluates the evidence obtained.

The procedures performed in a review are substantially less in extent than, and vary in the nature from, those performed in an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

SPORT BC

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Year ended March 31, 2026

1. Nature of operations:

Sport BC is a not-for-profit organization incorporated under the Societies Act (British Columbia). Under the provisions of the Income Tax Act (Canada), Sport BC is exempt from Canadian federal and provincial income taxes.

As a federation of BC provincial sport organizations, Sport BC provides leadership, direction, and support to foster the growth and development of amateur sport in British Columbia.

SBC Insurance Agencies Ltd. ("SBC") is a taxable for-profit insurance brokerage incorporated under the laws of British Columbia and is wholly owned by Sport BC. All after-tax earnings of SBC accrue to the benefit of Sport BC in support of amateur sport in British Columbia.

SBC offers a variety of insurance brokerage services and primarily focuses on sport organization and event coverages.

2. Significant accounting policies:

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and incorporate the following significant accounting policies:

(a) Consolidation:

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Sport BC and its wholly owned subsidiary, SBC. All intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

(b) Cash and cash equivalents:

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on account and investments in term deposits that have maturities within ninety days of acquisition.

(c) Related party transactions:

Monetary related party transactions and non-monetary related party transactions that have commercial substance are measured at the exchange amount when they are in the normal course of business, except when the transaction is an exchange of a product or property held for sale in the normal course of operations. Where the transaction is not in the normal course of operations, it is measured at the exchange amount when there is a substantive change in the ownership of the item transferred and there is independent evidence of the exchange amount. All other related party transactions are measured at the carrying amount.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(d) Tangible capital assets:

Tangible capital assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment write-downs. Amortization expense is charged using the declining balance method as follows:

Equipment and telephone	20%
Computers and software	33%

Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense. Betterments that enhance the service potential or extend the useful life of an asset are capitalized. When a tangible capital asset no longer contributes to Sport BC's ability to provide services or the value of the future service potential is less than its net carrying amount, its carrying amount is written down to its fair value or replacement cost to reflect partial and full impairments.

(e) Revenue recognition:

Sport BC follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Restricted non-capital contributions are initially deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred or restrictions met. Unspent amounts are included in deferred contributions. Contributions of, or funding for, the acquisition of tangible capital assets are deferred and recognized as revenue on the same basis as the tangible capital asset is amortized. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Membership fees are recognized upon membership approval for new members and receipt of renewal form for existing members. Investment income, fees for service, and event revenue is recognized when earned. Corporate support and fundraising revenue is recognized when received or when pledged and collection is reasonably certain.

Insurance commission revenue is recorded as insurance premium commissions at the time the coverage period of the policy commences.

(f) Contributed materials and services:

Sport BC recognizes as revenue contributions of certain services received at the estimated fair value of those services, provided the services would otherwise have been acquired and a fair value can be determined.

Contributed equipment is recorded at fair value when received.

(g) Customer deposits:

Deposits received and related revenue are deferred in current liabilities until the sale is recorded.

SPORT BC

Year ended March 31, 2026

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(h) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Freestanding derivative instruments that are not in a qualifying hedging relationship and equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value. All other financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. Sport BC has elected to carry its investments at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets carried at cost or amortized cost are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, Sport BC determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount Sport BC expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

(i) Allocation of expenses:

Management allocates human resource expenses based on the estimated proportion of respective time Sport BC employees commit to the specific areas of operations. Indirect costs, such as occupancy costs, are allocated based on planned and actual usage.

(j) Income taxes:

SBC uses the taxes payable method to account for income taxes whereby the expense (income) of the period consists only of the cost (benefit) of current income taxes for that period (note 12), determined in accordance with the rules established by taxation authorities. Sport BC is exempt from Canadian federal and provincial income taxes.

(k) Use of estimates:

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Areas requiring the use of management estimates relate to the valuation of accounts receivable. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

15. Financial risks:

(a) Credit risk:

Credit risk is the risk that a third party to a financial instrument might fail to meet its obligations under the terms of the financial instrument. Sport BC is exposed to credit risk with respect to its cash and cash equivalents, investments and accounts receivable. Cash and cash equivalents are entirely held at one Canadian chartered bank. Investments are entirely held with one custodian. Sport BC assesses, on a continuous basis, accounts receivable and provides for any amounts that are not collectible in the allowance for doubtful accounts. Assessment for uncollectible accounts is performed by management and provided for.

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will not be able to meet its obligations associated with financial liabilities. Sport BC is exposed to this risk mainly in respect of its bank loan and accounts payable and accrued liabilities. Sport BC manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate cash and highly liquid investments.

(c) Market risk:

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risks include equity price risk, currency risk and interest rate risk. Sport BC's exposure to equity price risk is primarily attributable to fluctuations in quoted market prices of listed investments.
